I was a little sad to see the Purple Reign post deleted; I realize that the post itself was DOA but I loved some of the links posted within the thread. Perhaps there is a middle ground that is a step above killing that would still allow folks to at least see the comments while still culling the post.

On the front page sidebar, it says "1, 2, 3, 4, 5 years ago"—links to Metafilter, 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5 years ago. Could we please have this feature in Metatalk?

Would it be possible for someone -- admin, volunteer, or even I could take a whack -- to develop a print stylesheet for Metafilter? [\[more inside\]](#)

I'm terrible at remembering names. It would be great to have usernames that are favorites show up as a different color. Is there a way?

A bunch of us had fun with goodnewsfortheinsane's "It's the End of the World... <http://music.metafilter.com/1708/Metafilter-Orchestra-Its-the-End-of-the-World-as-We-Know-It-And-I-Feel-Fine> " project last year. I think it's time to try another project, Exquisite Corpse style. [\[more inside\]](#)
